DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to Amendment filed 1/22/07.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-2, 5-6, 12-13 and 16-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stoev et al.

Regarding claims 1, 5, 12 and 16, Stoev et al discloses a magnetic head (figure 15) having a write function, comprising:

a lower core 46, 210, including a plurality of layers;

an upper core 644, 640, 630 including a plurality of layers;

a lower core edge layer 210, included in the lower core; and an upper core edge layer 630, 640, included in the upper core, the lower core edge layer and the upper core edge layer defining a write gap 625 on a side of an air bearing surface;

wherein the lower core except for the lower core edge layer is recessed from the air bearing surface of the magnetic head, wherein an edge on a side opposite to the air bearing surface of the lower core edge layer is configured to be aligned with an edge on the side opposite to the air bearing surface of the upper core edge layer.

Regarding claims 2 and 13, Stoev et al discloses that a non-magnetic film 615 is formed on the lower core except for the lower core edge layer on a side of the air bearing surface.

Regarding claims 6 and 17, Stoev et al discloses that a patterned magnetic material 210 is formed between the first lower pole piece and the second lower pole piece, and the first lower pole piece is recessed from a facet of the patterned magnetic material on a side of the air bearing surface of the magnetic head (see figure 15).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-2, 5-6, 12-13, 16 and 17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until
